Close Contests Mark CYO Play

Two close contests and one rather wide-open game marked this week's Manchester CYO Grammer School play.

St. Hedwig, sparked by a 14-point performance on the part of Szelog, outscored St. Anne in every period enroute to a 29-19 victory over St. Ann. Dave Larkin led the losers with eight points.

Blessed Sacrament and St. Pius hooked up in a tight contest before BS eked out a 27-23 win. Ed Fox pumped in 14 points to lead the way. Lawrence had a game high of 17 for St. Pius.

St. Catherine and St. Raphael, two of the top clubs in the league, hooked up in a close one which St. Catherine finally nailed, 29-24. Boisvert of St. Catherine had 10 points to be high man in the contest.

St. Hedwig Cagers Feted

St. Hedwig Parish paid special honors to its CYO youth organizations Monday night at a testimonial banquet at the parish hill. More than 300 attended the dinner.

Highlight of the program was the presentation of city championship jackets to the junior CYO basketball team, coached by Earl Felch.

White blazers were presented to the Intermediate CYO cheerleaders, winners of the New Hampshire championship and third place finish in New England competition.

Richard Daigle received the junior most valuable player award and Robert Naser received the MVP trophy in the intermediate group.

St. Joseph Ekes Out Double Overtime Win

In one of the closest games of the season, St. Joseph downed St. Francis, 30-28 in double overtime, to remain in first place in CYO Grammar School basketball standings.

St. Francis lead throughout the contest, taking a 21-17 lead with a period to go. Then, at the final buzzer, Corbett scored to tie the score, 24-24, forovertime action.

In other contests, St. Catherine had a 16 point first period to move to a 29-14 win over St. Anne.

St. Hedwig battled to a 31-28 victory over OLPH in the third game, while Blessed Sacrament drubbed St. Pius X, 21-8, in the nightcap.

Jim Clancy Registers 16 Points as Locals Post Victory, 46-38

Jim Clancy dumped in 16 points to pace St. Ann parish of Manchester to a 46-38 victory over St. Joseph parish of Dover in the finals of the New Hampshire CYO Intermediate tournament here yesterday afternoon.

The St. Anne five will now represent the state in the New England sectional tournament next weekend.

The Manchester five went into an early lead and stayed in front all the way as it dominated the backboards throughout. The Dover five came back strong in the second period and narrowed the gap to four points at one time, but the St. Anne team turned on the steam in the third period and withstood a fourth-period rally by the Dover club.

Johnny Farrell of Dover was high man for St. Joseph with 13 points.

The teams were even on field goals with 13 each and St. Anne actually won the game at the foul line, converting 20 of its chances, while the St. Joseph team was able to make good on only 12.

St. Hedwige of Manchester won the consolation final by prevailing over St. Mary of Dover, 39-33.
